Ale-8-One Bottling Company

Winchester, KY
Founded in 1902

The Ale-8-One formula was developed by G.L. Wainscott in the 1920's after experimentation with ginger-blended recipes he acquired during extensive travels in Northern Europe. He sponsored one of America's first "name the product" contests, and "A Late One" was the winning entry. The drink's logo, Ale-8-One, was adopted as a pun of its description. Today Ale-8-One is operated by Wainscott's great-nephew, Frank A. (Buddy) Rogers III, and owned by him and his children. Ale-8-One is the only soft drink manufacturer in Kentucky that recycles glass and the only soft drink ever invented in Kentucky.
