

Local Producer

Garden of Eden Farms

Mt. Sterling, KY
Founded: 2006

"What else would we name it?" answered Eden Myers when asked about where Garden of Eden Farms' name came from. Her husband is a Lay Minister and her first name being Eden it was a very obvious choice to them. Eden, a graduate from Auburn University Veterinary School, loves watching the ewes bond with the new lambs--hearing the deep, urgent chortle that the ewe makes as she talks to her baby to its feet for the first time. "Both the ewe and the lamb make very unique and distinctive noises that you won't hear except in the first few hours or days", said Eden.